

My name is Leah, and I am working on a project to understand how families work together to take pictures and make videos for social media. I am wondering if you want to be part of the project. If you want to be part of it, I'll spend time with your family, including you. I'll watch you and your family and ask questions as you take pictures, make videos, and do everyday things, like play and do chores. There are no right or wrong answers to my questions, and you can always take a break, tell me you don't want to answer some of the questions, or stop being part of the project. I will not be sad or mad. Because your family is helping with the project, you'll get a gift card to Amazon when we're done with each part of the project, even if you decide you don't want to be part of the project. [If the child has siblings: Because your family is helping with the project, you and your brothers/sisters will get a gift card to Amazon to share when we're done with each part of the project, even if you decide you don't want to be part of the project.] You can say yes or no to being part of the project, and you can ask me or your parents questions before you say yes or no.
